HEALTH BOARD MEETS TO-DAY

Insurance companies which intend to do business in Virginia through the present year are securing licenses at the office of the Bureau of Insurance. First the fees must be paid to the Auditor, and then, under the law, the companies are licensed.

The annual statements are examined later. It is this provision of the statute which Commissioner Joseph Burton would like to see changed, so that the anomaly of licensing a company and examining it afterward may be avoided.

During the first two business days of the New Year—Monday and yesterday—the following concerns secured licenses:

PRIMARY MEASURE TO BE CONSIDERED

Subcommittee Meets To-Day to Draft Bill for Legislation.

It seems likely that at least two primary bills will be presented to the subcommittee of the Democratic State Committee when it meets to-day to draft primary legislation. These are the measures prepared by Speaker Byrd and by J. E. West of Nansemond.

The subcommittee will meet at noon at the residence of State Chairman J. Taylor Elyson, 10 East Franklin Street. Mr. Elyson expects that nearly all the members will be present. There are eleven members in all, one from each congressional district, and the State chairman.

Among the subcommittee members who arrived last night was Henry O. Humphries, of Bedford, from the Sixth district. Mr. Humphries, contrary to report, has no primary bill, but he comes to Richmond with exceedingly well defined ideas on primary legislation, and will have something to say at to-day's meeting.

T. J. Downing, of Lancaster, the member from the First District, has been invited to a dinner given in his honor at the Westmoreland Club last night. Mr. Williams would have been guest of honor at an entertainment at Murphy's Hotel, which was subsequently changed to a date next week, when he will return especially for that occasion. Another dinner will be given Mr. Williams at the Jefferson Hotel next week.

Gave Picture to Hospital. A handsome picture of the late Captain M. J. Dimmock was presented to the Mary Washington Hospital, Fredericksburg, Va., on Wednesday by his son, Marion S. Dimmock, with an appropriate address. The picture was accepted by Mrs. J. E. Mason, Miss Virginia Knox and Mrs. M. Frankland on behalf of the hospital association. Captain Dimmock was the architect and donor of the plans for the improvement to the Mary Washington Hospital in 1907.

Qualified as Guardian. John B. Gavly qualified yesterday in the Chancery Court as administrator of the estate of Eliza E. Davis. He also qualified as guardian of Grace L. and Rosa B. Nichols.

Taken Ill in Store. Nathaniel Grinnan, of 599 East Leigh Street, was taken suddenly ill with appendicitis last week, but so far recovered that he is permitted to receive his friends. He is expected to leave the hospital within the next few days.

Blues Resume Drills. After a recess of about a week, the Blues have resumed drills. Company A drilled last night, and the regular program will be followed in the future.

DR. SHAW SPEAKS AT JEFFERSON

Place Changed From Academy Because of Conflict in Dates.

Because of a misunderstanding between the Richmond and New York management of the Academy of Music as to dates, the address of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, which was to have been delivered at the Academy on the evening of January 25, will be given at the Jefferson Hotel auditorium.

Dr. Shaw is coming to Richmond under the auspices of the Equal Suffrage League of Virginia, and the lecture is to be free, not only to members of the league, but to any others interested in what Dr. Shaw has to say about suffrage work.

She is one of the most able and eloquent of lecturers among the ranks of American suffragists. At the meeting of the International Congress of Women last week in London, her address was considered one of the strongest and most convincing among the many that were heard from women representing various parts of Europe, Australasia and America.

The Equal Suffrage League of Virginia is congratulating itself upon the fact that the literature published by it, embodying Miss Mary Johnston's views on the status of woman and what Dr. Anna H. Taylor, of West Virginia and Mary College, has to say about equal suffrage, is in such demand for the National Suffrage Association that the supply will have to be increased if the sale continues.

Mills at Home. Company F, First Virginia Regiment, moved yesterday from the First Post, Army, at Fort Belvoir, and Marshall streets. No drill was held last night, but the members of this and other companies gathered in the Army Club, pleased at being back in the battalion home. Four recruits were received by Company F.

Major-elect Lawrence T. Price spent some time with the men of the armory.

SWEATERS. All good kinds for men, women and children. Sweaters for walking, driving, automobiling, golfing, etc. Novelty effects not obtainable elsewhere. Gans-Rady Company

MANN'S NEPHEW CHIEF OF STAFF

Governor-Elect Appoints Alexander D. Hamilton, Popular Young Lawyer.

Governor-Elect William Hodges Mann yesterday announced that he would appoint his nephew, Alexander D. Hamilton, of Petersburg, as his chief of staff. The colonel-elect is a young attorney of Petersburg, and is a son of Alexander Hamilton. He is a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute.

This is the second appointment announced by Judge Mann. The first was that of Colonel W. W. Sale, of Norfolk, a law partner of Judge Mann's nephew and late campaign manager, James Mann, to be Adjutant-General.

CORN JUDGES TO GET SCHOLARSHIPS

Attractive Feature at Exhibition Which Will Be Held Here in February.

The midwinter session of the State Farmers' Institute will be held in the Jefferson Hotel auditorium February 1, 2 and 3. Professor Lyman Carrier, of Blacksburg, secretary of the Corn Growers' Association of Virginia, was in the city yesterday in conference with B. Morgan Sheppard, secretary of the Institute, and arrangements were completed and a program mapped out to make the last day of the institute a special corn day.

Various matters pertaining to agriculture in Virginia will occupy the attention of the Institute, but on the third and last day, nothing except corn will be discussed. At the same time a corn exhibition will be held, and prizes consisting of farm machinery of the value of several hundred dollars will be awarded the exhibitors of the best grain and to the men who can show the best yields per acre.

Another interesting feature of "corn day" will be a contest between boys under twenty-one years of age. This will be a kind of normal school, so to speak, and the five farmer boys who prove to be the best judges of corn will be awarded college scholarships. The following schoolships are listed as prizes: One in the University of Virginia, one in Washington and Lee University, one in the Shenandoah College Institute and Music School, one in Bridgewater College and one in the Virginia Polytechnic Institute. Already a number of young farmers have been listed as contestants for these valuable prizes.

Fred Alker, alias Charles A. Mann, charged with breaking into the store of James McGraw, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to twelve months in jail and to pay a fine of $100.

James Jones was sentenced to five years in the State Penitentiary for burglary. William Woodson, charged with breaking into the house of John A. George, was sentenced to two years on the public roads.

DR. LEVY APPOINTED

Selected by National Body to Attend International Health Conference. Chief Health Officer E. C. Levy received word yesterday of his appointment as a delegate from the American Public Health Association to the meeting of the National Civic Federation at Washington January 15-16, the object of which is to discuss and recommend uniform health legislation. Both Levy and Dr. W. C. Woodward, chief health officer of Washington.

Other delegates named by the national association with whom Dr. Levy will confer are Dr. Marshall L. Price, secretary of the Maryland State Board of Health, Dr. John T. Nagle, former health commissioner of New York; Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, health commissioner of Pennsylvania; Frederick L. Hoffman, a life insurance expert of New York; and Dr. W. C. Woodward, chief health officer of Washington.

BECK TO GRAND JURY

Two Small White Boys Are Sentenced to Reformatory for Stealing Brooms. Sydney W. Beck, the nineteen-year-old clerk, who is charged with robbing the safe of his employer, W. C. Morehead, 1212 West Main Street, Sunday night, was sent on to the grand jury from the Police Court yesterday morning. Beck is charged with the theft of $14.50. He knew the combination of the safe, and it is alleged that he entered through the back door after smashing a small iron strong-box.

James McKinney and Charles Fox, two small boys, were sent to the Reformatory by Justice Crutchfield on a charge of stealing two brooms from Lawrence Paul.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO MEET AT CAPITOL TO-MORROW

On account of the approaching session of the Legislature it was thought that it would be impossible for the Historical Society to hold its annual meeting at the Hotel House of Delegates, as it has done almost every year since it was organized in the old hall in 1851. It was thought that the meeting would be held at the Woman's Club, but the Governor and Register of the Land Office have now kindly given the use of the hall of the House of Delegates, and the meeting will be held there on Thursday night at 8:00 o'clock.

President Lyon G. Tyler, of West Virginia, who has not spoken on historical subjects in Richmond for several years, will deliver the annual address. His subject will be the famous "Two-Penny Act," which may be termed the beginning of the Revolution in Virginia. He has been making a study of the history of the subject, and will also illustrate his address with sketches of the eminent men of the time.

President W. Gordon McGohey's annual reports are always a feature of the meetings where he presides, and as usual officers will be elected.

The society never any charge or cards to these meetings, and the public is cordially invited to be present. It is especially desired that students of the various colleges and scholars taking history courses in schools shall hear Mr. Tyler's valuable address.

CHAMBER DELEGATES TO MUNICIPAL CONFERENCE

President F. D. Williams, of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday appointed the following delegates to the municipal conference to be held in this city Thursday and Friday: James Caskle (chairman), H. E. Gabel, C. D. Coleman, H. W. Rountree, Coleman Wortham and William T. Dabney.

The conference is called to agree upon a bill to be presented to the Legislature enabling the cities of this State to adopt local forms of government, through their councils without having to go through the many ramifications which the present law requires.

DOG TAX FUND IN BAD CONDITION

Accountants Submit Report Showing General Situation in Henrico County.

At the regular meeting of the Henrico county board of supervisors yesterday morning H. B. Eudalar and Son presented a statement of their examination of the treasurer's books for the fiscal year ending September 30. On the whole, though not without clerical mistakes, the books were found to be satisfactory, and the report was accepted by the board.

The record of the Commissioner of Revenue was found to be in excellent shape, and the transactions of Clerk S. P. Waddill were out only 54 cents. The various errors found in the Treasurer's books showed an amount due the county of $73.37. In looking over the check-book and bills it was found that checks amounting to $2,940 had been drawn in favor of Mrs. W. J. Todd, wife of the former Treasurer, but no entries indicating that the county owed her that amount were discovered.

Treasurer Hechler explained that the amount was paid in accordance with an agreement he had made with Mrs. Todd; that the money was taken out of his commission, and not from county funds. The county was not charged with the amount.

The accountants reported the dog tax fund in very bad condition; that many people had not their taxes with-out receiving medals, and that no record had been made in by the collectors. The amount to the credit of the county roads and general levy at the time the books were audited was $35,606.70.

JULEPS NOW FROM IMPORTED MINT

Fragrant Green Comes in Crystallized Form to Please Virginia Colonels.

No more need the devotees of the mint julep fear the ravaging effects of the winter upon the fragrant green that makes a melody when blended with the "old" familiar "juice." Cold winds may blast and wither the tender leafage, but the mind of man has devised a plan by which the mint may be made everlasting and its fragrance and flavor imparted when the snow covers the ground.

A Richmond connoisseur has imported mint in a crystallized form, known as "dehydrated mint," which needs only the addition of a little water to make it all green and fresh again. It is put up in jars at a small price, and makes an admirable "julep."

This will no doubt add many years to the lives of those faithful "colonels" who have cultivated mint from year to year with the extraordinary care of specialists. Now they will not have to shelter and guard the little green which benefits the window, and a burden of anxiety and watchfulness will be lifted off the shoulders of these mint-loving folk.

Handmaster Gets Buttons. Philip Colville, handmaster of the Richmond Light Infantry Band, has been presented with two handsome buttons by the members of the band. One of these buttons is for use by day and the other by night. The former is an exceedingly handsome very stick, inlaid with pearl. It will be appropriate engraved. Mr. Colville is very proud of this evidence of the esteem in which he is held by the men of the band.
